Artists who have made Red Seal Records for March

New Victor Records

for March 1916

These records are the latest additions to the great Library of Music which is listed in the Victor Record Catalogue. A new Supplement is issued on the 28th of every month the records being available on and after that date.

RED SEAL RECORDS

(The Artists are Listed in Alphabetical Order)

DESTINN, Emmy

87215 Slovácká Piseň In Bohemian (Old Slav Melody) 10-in. $2.00

Many beautiful melodies exist among the various Slav peoples, and while some efforts have been made to collect these folk tunes, the field has been greatly neglected. Mme. Destinn, who loves these songs of her race, has rescued a number of them, and has included several in her concerts.

For the March list the singer has selected an unusually beautiful melody, fitted it with words in her own language, and has delivered it most effectively.

ELMAN, Mischa

64547 Rondino (On a theme by Beethoven) (Fritz Kreisler) 10-in. $1.00

This interesting revival (of a melody from a neglected Beethoven work recently issued by Carl Fischer) is best described in the arranger's own words.

"This theme," says Mr. Kreisler, "consists of only eight measures, which occur in a very early and unimportant composition by Beethoven, now quite forgotten. The little theme itself is of indescribable charm, and its rhythm is of such alluring piquancy that it gains by every repetition. In order to set this peculiarity off to advantage, I conceived the idea of writing a rondo around it, the rondo being a form of composition where a short theme returns obstinately in more or less irregular intervals. Rondino means 'little rondo.' I have tried to keep the old classic style throughout the little piece, and hope I have succeeded." The number is dedicated by the composer to his friend and confrère, Mr. Elman.

This delicate and charming little Rondino is delightfully played here by Mr. Elman, who has been in splendid form this season after his long rest.

87226 Treue Liebe (True Love)

(Kücken) 10-in. $2.00

For the latest addition to their series of folk-songs these artists have selected one of the most popular of Völklieder, by Friedrich Wilhelm Kücken, notable as a writer of simple songs which have always appealed to the masses. Strangely enough, none of the American folk-song collections mention Kücken as the writer of this melody—Ditson calling it a "Thuringian Folksong"; and Schirmer, "Modern Folk Song—about 1840." In the Peters edition, however, it is described as written by Kücken in 1827. The original words, by Helmine von Chézy, and the translation (by "H. F. B."), from Ditson's "One Hundred Folksongs of All Nations," are given here by kind permission of the publishers.

Ach wie ist's möglich dann,
Dass ich dich lassen kann!
Hab dich von Herzen lieb,
Das glaube mir!
Du hast das Herze mein
So ganz genommen ein,
Dass ich kein' Andre lieb',
Als dich allein.

Blau ist ein Blümelein,
Das heisst Vergissnichtmein;
Dies Blüm' lein leg' an's Herz
Und denk' an mich!
Stirbt Blum' und Hoffnung gleich,
Wir sind an Liebe reich;
Denn die stirbt nie bei mir,
Das glaube mir.

How can I part from thee?
One life, one soul are we,
Thine is the heart of me,
Thine, thine, alone!
Thou hast this soul of mine
So fill'd with love divine,
Ne'er shall another love
My fond heart own.

Fair blooms a little flow'r,
Sweet blue forget-me-not,
Lay it upon thy heart,
And think of me.
Blossom and hope may die,
Fortune and friends both fly,
Deathless within the breast
Love's wealth have we.

HAMLIN, George

64531 Santa Lucia

(Neapolitan Folk Song) 10-in. $1.00

A charming "boat song" of the type formerly used by the gondoliers of Venice, which has become known all over the world. Although it originally came from Naples, the gondoliers consider it as much their own as do the Neapolitan fishermen, who sing it in time to the gentle swing of the oar. Santa Lucia is the patron saint of the Neapolitans.

This famous barcarolle is excellently given by Mr. Hamlin. The Italian text used by the singer, and the translation by Maria X. Hayes, are from Ditson's "One Hundred Folksongs of All Nations."

Sul mare luccica
l'astro d'argento,
placidaè l'onda,
prosperoè il vento;
venite al l'agile
barchetta mia
Santa Lucia!

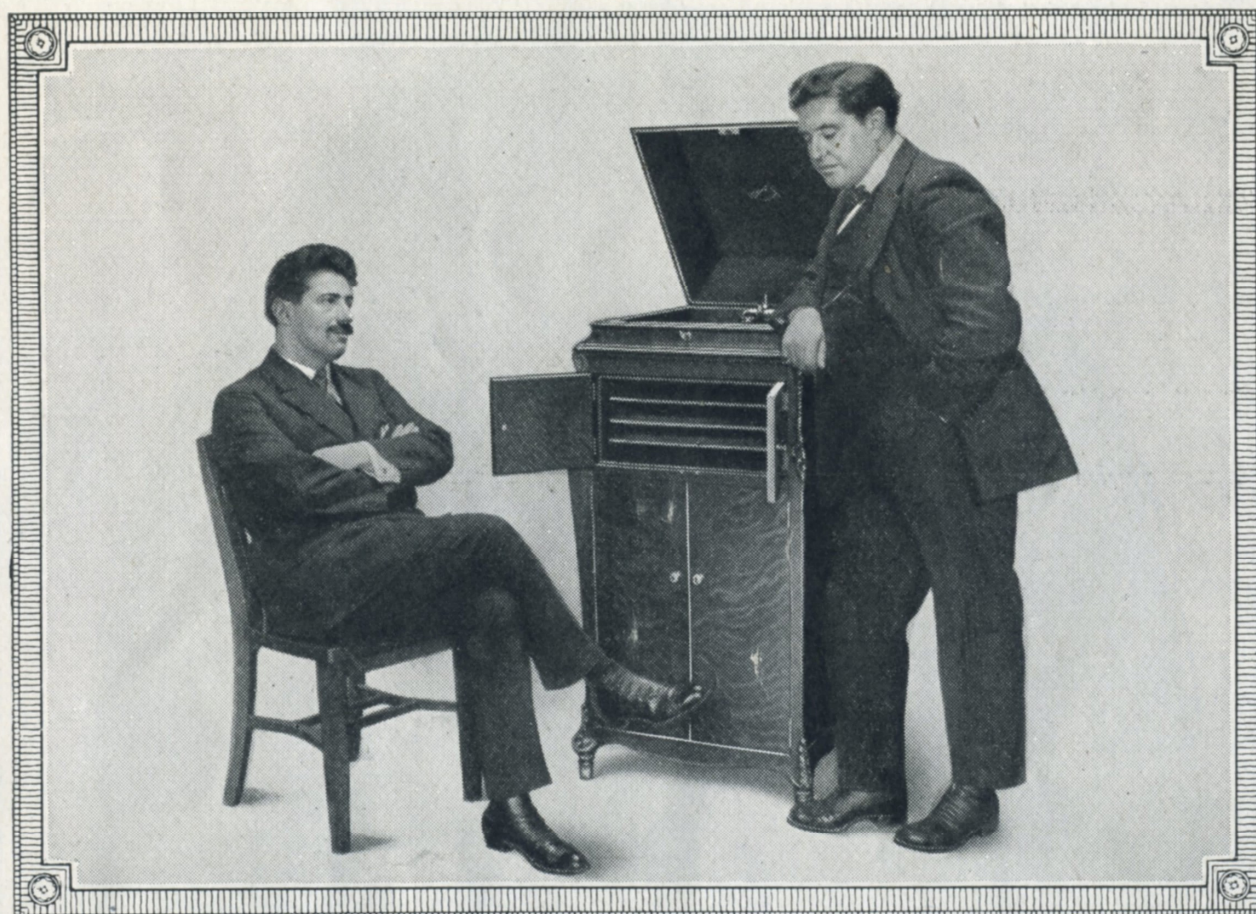

Now 'neath the silver moon
Ocean is glowing,
O'er the calm billow
Soft winds are blowing.
Who then will sail with me
In my bark o'er the sea?
Santa Lucia!

O dolce Napoli,
o suol beato,
ove sorridere
volle il creato,
tu sei l'impero
dell' armonia!
Santa Lucia!

To thee, sweet Napoli,
What charms are given
Where smiles Creation
Toil blest by Heaven.
Home of fair poesy,
Realm of pure harmony.
Santa Lucia!

Kreisler and McCormack

MARTINELLI, Giovanni

64544 Cavalleria Rusticana—Siciliana (Thy Lips Like Crimson Berries) (Mascagni) 10-in. $1.00

The melodious Siciliana, almost the only cheerful spot in Mascagni's passionate and tragic operatic melodrama, is sung behind the scenes, before the rise of the curtain, making it peculiarly effective. This lovely serenade, in which the gay, careless and faithless Turiddu sings of his love for Lola, is excellently given by Mr. Martinelli, with an admirable harp accompaniment by Mr. Lapitino. (In Italian.)

MCCORMACK-KREISLER

87233 Calm as the Night (Still wie die Nacht) (Böhm) 10-in. $2.00

Böhm's setting of this beautiful poem has long been a favorite concert number, and in fact is considered to be one of the most dignified and effective of modern love songs. Many translations have been made of the original words, but this new one by Alice Mattullath, made for Carl Fischer, is one of the best we have seen.

Mr. McCormack sings the number in his usual artistic manner, and the obligato by Kreisler adds an additional charm to a fine rendition of a beautiful song. Pianoforte by Ludwig Schwat.

MCCORMACK, John

64546 Forgotten

(Eugene Cowles) 10-in. $1.00

Mr. McCormack, in response to many requests, has given us this month an impressive record of that masterly song, "Forgotten," with its exquisite poem, for which Eugene Cowles has provided such a lovely setting. A very effective rendering of one of the most beautiful love songs ever written.

MELBA, Nellie

88551 Annie Laurie

(Douglas-Scott) 12-in $3.00

This lovely old song has lived for many generations, and its charm will endure so long as the love for beautiful words and tender music lasts.

It is pleasant to know that there really was an Annie Laurie once—more than two hundred years ago—a blooming lassie, who was the daughter of Sir Robert Laurie. She was famous for her beauty, which inspired one of her admirers, William Douglas, to write the verses. Says the old "Ballad-Booke" by Sharpe: "Sir Robert Laurie, first baronet of the Maxwellton family (created 27th of March, 1685), by his second wife a daughter of Riddello, Minto, had three sons and four daughters, of whom Annie was much celebrated for her beauty, and made a conquest of Mr. Douglas, of Fingland, who composed the verses."

But, as Mr. Douglas' granddaughter once said (at the age of ninety-seven): "He didna get her after a'!" She is supposed to have married Mr. Ferguson, of Craigdarroch. The present melody is by Lady John Scott, who was Alicia Anne Spottiswoode.

Mme. Melba, whose voice seems absolutely unchanged, and still possesses all the lovely qualities which have made her in many ways incomparable among singers of the present generation, sings this dear old air charmingly.

SCHUMANN-HEINK, Ernestine

87241 Wiegenlied (Cradle Song)

(Johannes Brahms) 10-in. $2.00

Brahms' melody is so well-known that little need be said of it here. This simple and lovable air is perhaps the most popular of the master's compositions, and one of the most serene and beautiful melodies imaginable.

Victor customers are quite familiar with Mme. Schumann-Heink's singing of this Brahms' gem, as she made a record of it some years ago. The new rendition now issued is a greatly improved one, and will doubtless largely replace the former record, which contained only one of the verses. (In German.)

WILLIAMS, Evan

64545 The Ninety and Nine (E. C. Clephane-Ira D. Sankey) 10 in. $1.00

This beautiful hymn is perhaps the favorite among the hundreds of Mr. Sankey's compositions. The veteran evangelist has talked interestingly of the discovery of the poem in 1874. He was traveling with Mr. Moody from Glasgow to Edinburgh, where they were to begin a series of meetings, and before boarding the train Mr. Sankey bought a penny newspaper, in which he discovered the poem. Its beauty struck him at once and he placed it in his scrap-book, intending to compose a tune for it at his leisure. Two days later he was asked by Mr. Moody to close one of the services with a hymn appropriate to the text, which was "The Good Shepherd," but he could think of nothing suitable, and was at a loss until the poem occurred to him. Placing the clipping on the organ in front of him, he sung it to the air which it bears to-day, and which came to him instantly. Mr. Moody and the great Scotch audience were moved to tears, and from that time the hymn has never failed to touch the hearts of an audience.

ZIMBALIST, Efrem

64518 Andantino (From Second Sonata, Op. 42) (Max Reger) 10-in. $1.00

This Andantino is from the second of Max Reger's four Sonatas for Violin, and Mr. Zimbalist has been playing it at his recitals with much success. Reger has to some extent modeled his style on Bach, and it may be said that no other composer since Bach has written any sonatas of artistic value for the violin alone. The melody is a lovely one, and the artist, who is a great admirer of Reger, plays it with sincere appreciation of its beauty.

Victor Concert Orchestra
Victor Concert Orchestra

The "Egmont" is one of the most famous of overtures, and is really part of the music written to Goethe's tragedy, about 1810. It is one of the master's greatest compositions, with the rich beauty and depth of feeling so often present in Beethoven's music. The splendid "Marche Militaire," originally one of Schubert's pianoforte duets, is here heard in a delightful orchestral arrangement.

The orchestra has quite distinguished itself in its rendition of these two classics.

- 17848 { Nearer My God to Thee (Mason) Conway's Band
 10in. 75c { Onward Christian Soldiers (Sullivan) Conway's Band

These records have been made by Mr. Conway in response to many requests from customers who like to hear their favorite hymns played by a band. They are given in broad, full chords with an excellent volume of tone, and will be found useful for accompanying choirs, family gatherings and other bodies of singers. If these records meet with the approval of our customers other hymns will be added to the series.

- 17863 { My Hula Love—Medley March Lua and Kaili
 10in. 75c { Kawaihau Waltz Lua and Kaili

Hawaiian music, which has a charm and originality that is distinctly its own, is now, thanks to the Victor's comprehensive list of records, becoming quite familiar to customers all over the United States.

This month the excellent duettists of the Irene West Troupe, Lua and Kaili, give us two more of their fascinating guitar numbers.

- 17951 { Forget Me Not—Intermezzo (Macbeth) Venetian Trio
 10in. 75c { To You—Waltz Serenade (Czibulka) Venetian Trio

Two delightful little trifles which are especially effective with the present arrangements. Mr. Macbeth's dainty intermezzo, with its tuneful theme and pretty harp passages; and Czibulka's charming waltz serenade, a great favorite in Europe, are excellently played by this sterling organization.

- 55067 { Die Meistersinger—Preislied (Prize Song) (Wagner) 'Cello Beatrice Harrison
 12in. 1.50 { Ave Maria (Schubert) 'Cello Beatrice Harrison

Miss Harrison, whose records have delighted thousands of hearers during the past four months, has given us for March two celebrated and highly popular compositions—the Preislied being made with orchestra accompaniment, and the Schubert number with strings and harp. The arrangement used for the Meistersinger number is that by Wilhelmj, played with a marvelous softness and purity of tone which will delight every listener. The artist also gives a remarkable performance of the noble Ave Maria, giving it with tenderness and much beauty of tone, while the harp arpeggios are delicately played by Mr. Lapitino.

- 17952 { Good Scout—One-Step Banjo Solo Vess L. Ossman
 10in. 75c { Universal Fox Trot Banjo Solo Vess L. Ossman

Two new renditions by this skilled banjoist, who has played all over the world. Two lively new compositions have been selected for Mr. Ossman's reappearance with the Victor, and both can be used for dancing if desired.

DANCE RECORDS

The fact that the current list is made up of two one-steps, two fox-trots and two waltzes shows that the public favor is about equally divided among these three dances and their variations.

The March dance list is made up almost entirely of popular song hits—no less than nineteen current successes being represented. It is hard to choose between these splendid records, and perhaps the only safe plan is to acquire all of them!

VOCAL RECORDS STANDARD SELECTIONS

- 17940 { The Homeland Elizabeth and William Wheeler
10in. 75c { My Jesus, as Thou Wilt Elizabeth and William Wheeler

Two beautiful old hymns, favorites with almost everyone, have been selected by the Wheelers for this new double. "Homeland," by Rev. H. R. Haweis and George C. Stebbins, seeks to describe death merely as a "going home." The original words of "My Jesus, as Thou Wilt" (Mein Jesu, wie du willst), are by the German, Benjamin Schmolke (1672-1737). The translation commonly used is by Borthwick, and the tune, called "Jewett," is arranged from an air by Weber.

The hymns and other numbers which Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler have made for the Victor are much liked by customers, the excellent blending of the voices having called forth much favorable comment.

- 55069 { Mavourneen Roamin' (Johnstone-O'Neill) Lambert Murphy
12in. 1.50 { The Sunshine of Your Smile (Cooke-Ray) Lambert Murphy

Admirers of this young tenor, who has left the Metropolitan Opera Company to devote himself entirely to concert work, will be gratified at the announcement of two new songs by him. These two excellent new numbers, which have found great favor with concert audiences, are excellently given by Mr. Murphy, whose beautiful voice and splendid diction have won him great popularity.

- 17933 { Juanita (Norton) Alan Turner
10in. 75c { 'Tis Not True (Non è ver) (Mattei) Alan Turner

Two old favorites are revived this month by Mr. Turner. Mrs. Norton's simple and charming ballad in the Spanish style, and Mattei's effective concert song, which was enormously popular in the 80's and 90's, make an attractive double record. Mr. Turner's excellent baritone and finished style of singing are much in evidence in these two fine ballad renditions.

- 45075 { The Slumber Boat (Riley-Gaynor) Christine Miller
10in. 1.00 { Absent (Glenn-Metcalf) Christine Miller

Miss Miller's records of concert songs have been highly successful and much admired by music-lovers, especially the numbers in English, the singer's diction being unusually clear; and two more of these are therefore presented. "Slumber Boat," a charming lullaby, is by that well-known American composer, Jessie L. Gaynor, and Mrs. Alice C. D. Riley, writer of many beautiful poems especially for children. The exquisite "Absent," by John W. Metcalf (poem by Catherine Young Glenn), has been immensely popular—so popular that it has been as much the prey of the ambitious amateur as "Sing Me to Sleep" or Tosti's "Good Bye." However, it is only the few who can give such a song as this its proper expression, and one of these is Christine Miller. It is an exquisite presentation of a deeply affecting song.

 "Nearer My God To Thee" (Mason)—Chorus, Doxology, "Praise God
 from Whom All Blessings Flow"

Ten famous old hymns, beloved by every Christian, are here harmoniously combined, the whole forming a splendid collection of the best known songs of praise. A few notes regarding these hymns may be interesting to those who add this record to their lists.

Adeste Fideles (Oh Come, All Ye Faithful):

The origin of this grand old hymn is unknown, but it is supposed to have been first sung in England, about 1797, in the Roman Catholic chapel attached to the Portuguese Embassy, from which it probably takes its name—although some credit it to Marcas Portugal. The tune has also been variously attributed to John Reading Thorley (an English organist) and to the Cistercian monks. More than thirty-eight translations of the Latin words are known, the one used by the Victor Chorus being that of Canon Oakly, now in general use.

Lead Kindly Light:

This hymn was written by Cardinal John Henry Newman in 1833, under most peculiar circumstances. While on the way from Rome to England he became seriously ill and was left at Sicily. When only partially recovered he took passage for Marseilles on an orange boat, which was becalmed and drifted for weeks on the Mediterranean. There on that broiling sea, sick almost to delirium, he wrote this grandest of hymns, which for seventy years has inspired the living and comforted the dying. The tune most often used is the beautiful one by J. B. Dykes.

Rock of Ages:

The writer of this famous hymn was Augustus Toplady, a minister of the Church of England. It first appeared in 1776 in the Gospel Magazine, of which he was the editor. Several tunes have been written for the hymn, the most familiar being the setting composed by Dr. Thomas Hastings, who died in 1872.

Holy, Holy, Holy:

Words by Bishop Reginald Heber. It was a posthumous work, and appeared in a collection published in 1827, a year after his death. The tune (Nicaea), a grand one eminently suited to so noble a hymn, is by J. B. Dykes (1823-1876), a famous English composer and choir leader.

Onward Christian Soldiers:

Written by the famous English clergyman, poet and novelist, Sabine Baring-Gould, especially for a school festival in Yorkshire, because the author could not find any suitable marching hymns in the hymn books of the day. The noble militant words and the stirring tune by Sir Arthur Sullivan have made this hymn universally known and loved.

All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name:

Written by the Rev. Edward Perronet, in 1779. It breathes a complete abandonment to love and adoration, as though the writer were convinced that the name of Jesus was in itself a tower of strength. The tune ("Coronation") is by Oliver Holden, who was born in Charlestown, Mass., in 1765. Strangely enough, this hymn was at first refused admittance to the Methodist Hymnal, but this may have been because of the compilers' differences with the Wesleys, Mr. Perronet being one of John Wesley's followers.

Abide With Me:

The writer of this favorite evening hymn was Henry Francis Lyte, Curate of Brixham, England. Although he wrote many other hymns, this was his last and greatest, and it has made his memory dear to millions of men and women in every land. He died at the age of fifty-four. The tune, called "Eventide," is by William Henry Monk, born London, 1823, one of the editors of Hymns Ancient and Modern. In his later years he devoted himself to the poor fishermen on the wild coast of Devon.

Jesus Lover of My Soul:

This is perhaps the most beloved of Charles Wesley's hymns, and is said to have been inspired by a little bird which, when pursued by a hawk, flew into Mr. Wesley's window for refuge. Another story tells of Wesley's taking refuge in a cave during a terrible storm, and of the idea of the hymn coming to him while waiting for the tempest to abate. Henry Ward Beecher once said, "I would rather have written this hymn of Wesley's than to have the fame of all the kings that ever sat on the earth, or to possess the wealth of the richest man in the world." Several settings have been made, the most familiar being the one used here, by Simeon B. Marsh, 1834. (Some of the record labels wrongly say Holbrook, who composed "Refuge," another tune.)

Nearer My God To Thee:

This tune, by Lowell Mason, is known as "Bethany." Other well-known settings of the immortal verses by Sarah Flower Adams are by Sir Arthur Sullivan ("St. Edmund") and by A. B. Spratt ("Kedron").

Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow:

This Doxology, as it is now called, has become a Protestant Te Deum laudamus, being universally adopted by the American churches. The words are by Bishop Thomas Ken (1637-1711). The origin of the tune, known as "Old Hundredth," has been traced to the French Protestant Psalter of Beza, published at Geneva in 1551. It also appeared in 1561 in the Anglo-Geneva Psalter, published in London. The name of the composer is not definitely known.

Reinald Werrenrath and Victor Chorus

It is with pleasure that the Victor Company announces a new series of records in the Blue Label class by that excellent and deservedly popular baritone, Mr. Reinald Werrenrath, who has by consistent growth established himself in the front rank of American artists. This young singer, already well-known to concert audiences in America, has recently achieved new successes on his tour with Miss Farrar. Some of the opinions of the critics who attended these Farrar concerts may be interesting here.

"He possesses a big voice, uses it with rare intelligence in dramatic numbers, and he is thoroughly pleasing in the lighter numbers."

"The years are adding a very perceptible growth to voice and art, and the sincerity of the singer impresses deeply. Not only through the appealing quality of his tone, but by a clearness of enunciation and excellent breath control, is he enabled to impart his message of song. Mr. Werrenrath was recalled many times and graciously responded with extra numbers."

"Reinald Werrenrath is an artist of refinement, and his rich, pure baritone rang clear and true last evening. He has made great strides in art and he must be ranked now with the leaders on the concert stage."

"Mr. Werrenrath is a singer of splendid equipment, imposing presence and manly delivery, and displays in his choice of songs the intelligence of the discriminating artist."

For the first records of his new series Mr. Werrenrath has selected two highly popular airs—the noble Prologue, given with splendid power, and the stirring Toreador Song, which he delivers with notable verve and understanding. We predict that additional numbers in this series will be awaited with interest by music-lovers.

MUSICAL COMEDY SUCCESSES

Musical comedy is represented this month by numbers from the new Hauerbach-Friml operetta, "Katinka"; a revival of the great waltz hit from "Mlle. Modiste," which is now more popular than ever; and two more numbers from that great success, "Stop, Look and Listen"—a unique ditty describing the infatuation of a young man with the magazine cover girl, who never can be found in real life; and that great novelty, "I Love a Piano," which is given on the stage with the assistance of a piano forty feet long! The pianoforte effects are well brought out here.

10in. 75c { Gavotte (Mozart) 2. Gavotte (Gretry) William H. Reitz

We have long contended that little children should hear the simple, direct melodies of the old masters, strong in rhythmic values, played on instruments descended from the early inventions of our primitive ancestors. To serve this purpose Mr. Reitz has recorded the well-known Menuetts of Gluck and Mozart, and the Gavottes of Mozart and Gretry, with bells and xylophone.

Children invariably love these instruments, which especially appeal to them, and we now present these fine classic numbers for their enjoyment and to serve in forming an early taste for the best in music.

10in. 75c { Rockin' Time (Gertrude L. Knox) Kline, Baker, Dunlap

Dvořák's compositions are of particular interest because of his residence here and his use of many themes of our Negro Spirituals and Indian Melodies in his later writings. The "Humoresque" was originally written for piano, but has been transcribed for violin and orchestra. It has become so popular that it is small wonder that it has been set to words, and that those words should be of "darky" character. Dr. Frank Rix, Supervisor of Music, New York City, has made a very attractive arrangement, and our trio of women's voices has sung it beautifully.

"Rockin' Time" is a most interesting little "Mammy" lullaby, and the record should prove universally popular.

- 35506 { Quartet for Strings—*Molto Lento (Rubinstein) Victor String Quartet
12in. 1.25 { Quartet in C Minor—*Scherzo (Beethoven, Op. 18, No. 4) Victor String Quartet

These fine examples of Victor recording illustrate the individual values of each of the instruments of the String Quartet. Rubinstein's "Molto Lento" is a beautiful "Song Without Words." Its title, "The Music of the Spheres," suggests the poetic conception of the composition.

"Scherzo" is the Italian word for "jest." This form has a lively, humorous character, gained by its three-eight rhythm, which is in sharp contrast with the other movements. The C Minor Quartet begins with an Allegro, followed by a Scherzo, Menuetto and Allegro.

It was Beethoven who first successfully introduced the Scherzo into his Quartets, Sonatas and Symphonies.
